Nashville, TN: (August 14, 2024) Bailey & Company today announced it served as the sell-side investment banking advisor to HVCA Cath Lab Ventures, and its ASC partner physicians from Heart and Vascular Center of Arizona (HVCA), a leading cardiovascular practice in Phoenix, AZ, in connection with its sale to Cardiovascular Associates of America (CVA USA). This successful outcome for HVCA Cath Lab Ventures follows the announcement of HVCA and CVA USA's November 2023 partnership transaction, which transformed the independent cardiovascular physician landscape in Phoenix.

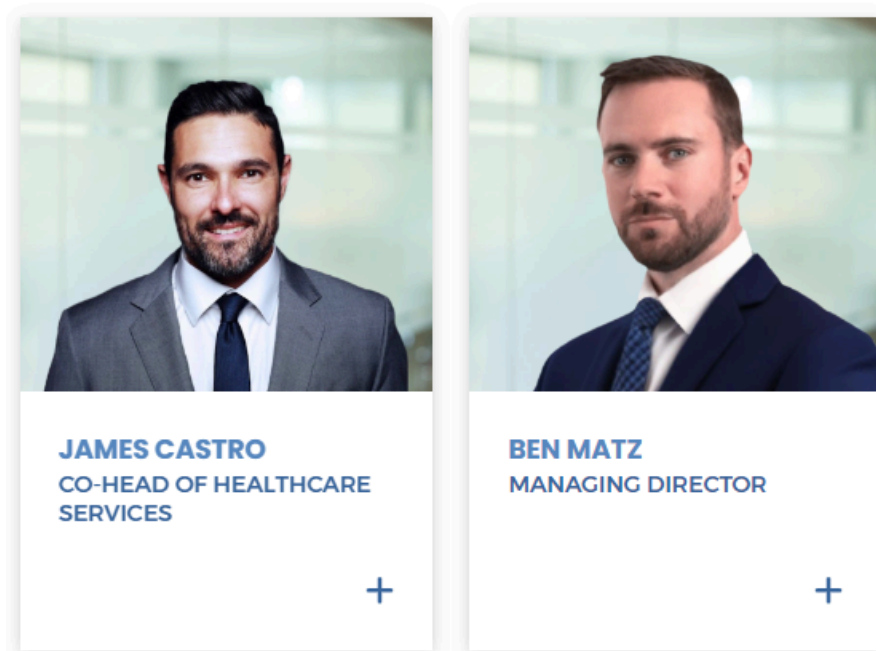

"Our engagement with HVCA Cath Lab Ventures underscores our firm's position at the forefront of healthcare services," said Jeff Bailey, co-founder and managing director at Bailey & Company. "Our team's expertise helped drive a successful transaction for one of the most established and accomplished cardiovascular services platforms in the Southwest. We are committed to guiding premier healthcare services enterprises through seamless transaction execution, ensuring that we unlock value while preserving the ability of physicians and practitioners to provide services at the peak of their license and drive superior patient outcomes."

HVCA Cath Lab and its partner physicians offer a full suite of interventional cardiovascular, vascular, and ambulatory surgical services to a patient base across three clinical locations and numerous hospitals in the Phoenix metropolitan area. By furthering its clinical partnership with CVA USA, HVCA helps solidify its reputation as a leading cardiovascular practice in Maricopa County and the Phoenix metropolitan area.

CVA USA, a portfolio company of Webster Equity Partners, is a physician-led network committed to leading cardiology into a value-based future by partnering with payers, primary care groups and more to transform care delivery and benefit patients. CVA USA serves more than 1,000,000 patients through over 550 providers across more than 150 locations and eight states.
